    - If students have not been in their school garden, have them discuss what they would like to see in the garden.
  - Throughout the lesson, there will be opportunities for students to practice pronouncing certain words from the lesson.
  - Throughout the lesson, there will be opportunities for students to name the color of the item in the lesson (such as the color of a tomato).
- Garden Rules: have students practice the two-finger touch.
  - Students use their pointer and middle finger, raised together, to gently touch things, such as plants when they are in the garden.
  - Students can practice the two finger touch with themselves, any pets in the house, or with their parents.
- Drawing: have students draw their favorite part of the lesson. It can be a fruit or vegetable they saw, or a color, or anything else!
